

TO LAY "UNCLE JOE" TO REST TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Dixonites Fail to Get Their Share of Gold

SPEED CALLS AT 20 HOMES DURING DAY

No One Won Coin; He Will Be in County All Next Week

Mr. Speed, that mysterious stranger who is spending a week in Dixon and other Lee county communities, distributing gold pieces to lucky readers of The Evening Telegraph, visited twenty Dixon homes today, as he had promised in last evening's Telegraph, but he still has all the gold pieces with which he started out.

- The homes at which he called today were:
- J. Judge, 1414 Second street.
  - W. H. Close, 1415 Second street.
  - G. Chare, 1410 Second street.
  - C. E. Carson, 1410 First street.
  - M. L. Reisinger, 1507 First street.
  - Mrs. Hagert, 1511 First street.
  - D. J. Beard, 1515 First street.
  - G. E. Ryerson, 1523 First street.
  - Harry Gaff, 1522 First street.
  - Mary James, 1516 First street.
  - N. H. Bernard, 115 Artesian Place.
  - Laura Hoff, 112 Artesian Place.
  - Charles Heffrich, 104 Artesian Place.
  - John Salzman, 103 Artesian Place.
  - E. Reynolds, 313 Dement avenue.
  - Mrs. Anna Chessman, 319 Dement avenue.
  - Mrs. Rae Arnold, 423 E. Fourth street.
  - Mrs. March, 401 E. Fourth street.
  - Miss P. Bishop, 418 Crawford avenue.
  - E. Buck, 419 Crawford avenue.

Must Watch His Step.
"I see I will have to watch my step in Dixon," said Mr. Speed. "I found most every home with The Evening Telegraph planted somewhere near the door. One lady said, 'Why Mr. Speed, I expected to see an old man with whiskers.' Well, as a matter of fact I do not wear whiskers and I am not as young as I used to be."

Today's Experience.
"If the people of Dixon will try half as hard to get my money as I am going to try to keep it myself, they will get many five and twenty-fives before my visit in this community ends. Many people today tried to say the greeting slogan, but they were in too great a hurry and got excited."

Nov. folks, take plenty of time. for I will not do one thing to interrupt you. This is just in fun and I will give everyone a square deal. I have found out that Dixon people have all kinds of smiles. Mrs. G. Chare had The Telegraph in the window still beside the door, but she opened the door too quickly to get it.

Mrs. Bernard had her Telegraph handy, but forgot to bring it to the door, while Mrs. Buck had misplaced her Telegraph.

Mrs. Rae Arnold answered the door with the Telegraph in hand, all right, but she had an old edition. I will make a back call at Mr. Arnold's and give her another chance."

Look for Sedan.
Mr. Speed warns Dixonites to look for the Buick sedan in their neighborhood, for it will show he is making his calls in that vicinity. Grab The Evening Telegraph and take it to the door every time there is a knock or the door bell rings, and just as soon as you open the door, greet the visitor with the following slogan, and be sure to repeat it correctly:

"Reg. pardon. You are Mr. Speed, representing The Evening Telegraph, the great Buick ever built."

This greeting is easy to memorize and it may get you $5 in gold.

Special Features.
As a special feature, starting Monday morning, any lady who answers the door with the most recent copy of The Telegraph in hand, but who does not repeat the greeting correctly, or who says the slogan but forgets The Telegraph, will receive one fancy box of home-made chocolates—a prize made possible by the Purity Confectionery. And father will not be forgotten, for at every home where Mr. Speed hands out a box of chocolates, he will leave a Rexall cigar for dad. This feature was made possible by B. A. Marriott, proprietor.

Badger Bagged by Amboy Hunters in Green River Slough

A party of Amboy hunters who were working out a pack of coon hounds Wednesday night south of Lee Center made a most unusual catch for this locality. The hounds had wandered into a slough along Green river and their baying brought the party to the location. The hounds were being fought off and some of them had been slashed with long sharp claws before the hunters arrived. It proved to be a full grown badger which was wandering about in the high slough grass and had been overtaken by the dogs.

STIMAS GUILTY, JURY DECLARES: GETS LIFE TERM

Disappointment Felt by Marshall Folks: Wanted Death

Kewanee, Ill., Nov. 13—(AP)—At 9:20 last night a Stark County jury found Joseph Stimas guilty of the murder of Sheriff Orville Litchfield at the home of the former in Toluca, on the night of Sept. 21, 1925.

Stimas, who is also charged with the killing of Night Officer John Leonard, shot the sheriff when he went to arrest him at his home following the complaint of Stimas' wife that he had abused her while drunk.

The case, which has been in court here for a little over a week, was brought to this county on a change of venue. The state closed its case late yesterday afternoon and the jury retired about 6 o'clock. Marshall county residents present, who wanted a hanging, expressed their disappointment because the jury recommended life imprisonment.

Judge Shopen will hear a motion for a new trial Dec. 4.

Effort to "Make" Olaf Choir Hurts Gridiron

Northfield, Minn.—(AP)—Ability to "make" the famous St. Olaf college choir rank progress at football or baseball and many prominent gridiron stars have been lost through the choir's appeal.

The St. Olaf choir, under direction of Dr. F. Mellus Christanson, is the college's outstanding institution. From the student body sixty voices are chosen while constantly there is in training a second choir as a "feeder" for the first.

Five or six times a week the choir drills, primarily in preparation for the annual spring tour, which this year will take the group to eastern cities. Last year they visited the Pacific coast.

MARIE PAID HER TRIBUTE TO ABE LINCOLN TODAY

Stopped in Springfield. En Route to Chicago, To Place Wreath

Queen Marie's Train at Springfield, Ill., Nov. 13—(AP)—Queen Marie will make a trip to Florida before she leaves the country, it was announced on her train today. Dates of her passage through Virginia, the Carolinas and Georgia have not been determined and will be contingent upon possible change in her sailing date.

Previously, it was planned, for Marie to sail on Dec. 24, but there are indications that she will depart at least two weeks earlier and be able to spend Christmas at home.

Details of the Florida trip have not yet been worked out with officials of the Atlantic Coast Line, over which the party will travel most of the way. Negotiations are still pending with the Southern Railway which has refused to transport the special train at nominal cost.

Tentative plans call for a motor trip to Asheville, N. C., on the return trip. Marie will go to Atlantic City from Washington while Prince Nicholas and Princess Ileana are at the football game in Chicago. They will unite at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., on Nov. 28 and it is probable that the southern trip will begin from that point.

Marie stopped here nearly two hours today to place a wreath on the tomb of Abraham Lincoln before continuing on to Chicago.

The special train bearing Queen Marie arrived here at 11:41 a. m. today, forty minutes late. Rain, falling steadily all morning stopped just before the royal party reached Springfield and clear skies greeted the visitors.

Queen Marie's Train Enroute to Chicago, Nov. 13—(AP)—Queen Marie traveled toward Chicago and its four day stop over today with only a two hour halt at Springfield, Illinois, to break the journey.

She arranged to stop at Springfield long enough to place a wreath on the tomb of Abraham Lincoln, whose birth-place, near Louisville, Ky., she will visit next week.

The Queen's itinerary, after the present tour is completed at Washington, Nov. 24, is in doubt. Although it is understood that the Southern Railway, over which the royal party planned to travel to North Carolina and possibly Florida, has refused to accept a nominal fare for the entourage, negotiations are said to be continuing.

CHICAGO PLANS WELCOME

Chicago, Nov. 13—(AP)—Chicago dined its best today for Queen Marie, albeit somewhat self-conscious about the endeavor to give Her Majesty a truly democratic, mid-western welcome.

Long before time for the Queen's train to arrive however, international committees succeeded in ironing out all but a few minor problems encountered in plans to make the welcome thoroughly democratic.

Perplexity of city officials wondering whether to kiss the royal visitor's hand or merely clasp it, was disposed of by announcement that Queen Marie will not her acknowledgment of introductions.

At Lake Shore Drive Hotel, the entire personnel spent a busy day in preparation of the royal guest whose party will occupy the seventeenth floor.

It was learned that Samuel Hill, Northwestern millionaire who experienced some difficulties while the Queen's host in the Pacific northwest, has held reservations here. The reservations for Mr. Hill are not at the Lake Shore Drive.

Ducks Have Not Started Flights

Local duck hunters will be interested in news that Dr. E. A. Sickels brings home from the north woods where he has been on a hunting expedition. The big flight of ducks has not come through yet and there has been no weather sufficiently severe to drive the ducks out of the northern waters. Before leaving his camp on the Bowstring River, Dr. Sickels telephoned to Henry Brown, former Dixonite who now owns a drug store in International Falls on the Canadian border, and Mr. Brown told him that Rainy Lake and the Lake of the Woods were still full of Mallards. Canvas back and Red Heads. Until an arctic storm freezes up these big northern lakes the ducks will not come into this part of the country in any great numbers.

MEXICAN, WILD DRIVER ALONG ROUTE 2, GETS THREE MONTHS AT VANDALIA, FROM CO. JUDGE

Man Captured by Dep. Richardson Draws Real Penalty

Eusebio Flores, a Mexican, was sentenced to serve three months at the state work farm at Vandalia by Judge William L. Leach in the county court today, on a charge of transporting and possessing intoxicating liquor. It was Flores' second offense, he having been liberated from the county jail only a few weeks ago on a similar charge.

Flores was arrested by Deputy Fred Richardson after a wild ride on the Black Hawk Trail, in which several cars were reported to have taken the ditch to avoid being struck. Ogle and Lee county authorities were both called upon to stop the Mexican. A companion, whom Flores claims he does not know, evaded the officers and made good his escape.

Flores admitted that he had been a resident of the United States for more than 15 years and had never applied for naturalization papers. Testimony at the hearing also brought out the fact that the car Flores drove, bore fictitious license plates.

DEATH LURKS IN HOLIDAY HOOCH DRINKERS WARNED

Poisonous Deluge to be Poured Loose in No. Illinois Cities?

Rockford, Nov. 13—Floods of bottled death—in the form of poisonous gin, whisky and other alcoholic concoctions—are to be poured into Rockford and other northern Illinois cities for the glibbie "wet" holiday trade, it was indicated today by reports from Chicago.

Death, blindness, paralysis and severe organic disorders are only part of the dangers that lurk in this "pizen likker" for those who attempt to celebrate Thanksgiving and Christmas with it, local physicians today warned.

Most of the stuff that will flood the holiday markets made from redistilled wood or commercial alcohol, from which the poison has not been removed because of ignorance or haste in the process of redistillation.

Fusel Oil Deadly

"In good liquor, fusel oil runs about .25 of one per cent; in moonshine it is sometimes five or six percent, which is dangerous."

"Aldehydes (poisonous products of distillation) are sometimes very high in moonshine, due to imperfect distilling and failure to properly age. It may run as high as one-tenth of one percent, which is dangerous."

Many Types of Poison

"Traces of copper and zinc found in hard liquor probably came from containers or the stills."

"Methyl, or wood alcohol causes blindness. It is different in its chemical combination from ethyl or grain alcohol, and is produced by distilling different material under different conditions."

Ether "Kick" Dangerous

"Salicylic acid, sometimes used as a preservative in beer, and ether used to impart a 'kick' are both very harmful."

"Improper methods of brewing and ignorance of the various reactions of yeasts, cause acetic acid, formic acid and succinic acid to appear in home brew. All are irritating to the stomach and dangerous to the drinker."

Not Fatal—But Painful

Explaining that very little real liquor is brought into Rockford, including the so-called "imported" stuff sold at fancy prices, Mr. Anderson stated:

EXTRA LAST NEWS OF TODAY'S MAIN GRID BATTLES

SECOND PERIOD

Ohio, 10; Michigan, 10.
Notre Dame, 0; Army, 0.
Penn., 3; Columbia, 0.
Dartmouth, 17; Cornell, 7.
Princeton, Yale, 7.

FIRST PERIOD

Quantico Marine, 6; Detroit, 7.

Army-Notre Dame

Managan circling Army's left and raced 62 yards to a touchdown soon after the third period started. The Notre Dame half back was given perfect interference and sped down the side lines without having to dodge a single tackler. His mates took care of the Cadet secondaries. O'Boyle booted the extra point and the score was Notre Dame, 7; Army, 0.

BULLETIN

Yankee Stadium, N. Y., Nov. 13—(AP)—Army and Notre Dame, unbeaten contenders for national championship football honors, battled scorelessly through the first half of their intersectional tilt before 70,000 spectators today.

New York, Nov. 13—(AP)—Before a colorful throng of 70,000 spectators, Army and Notre Dame, two unbeaten gridiron arrays, entered their annual battle today with national championship aspirations of each team at stake.

Murrell, Army fullback, kicked off and the Cadets opened up with a smashing running attack after forcing the Hoosiers to kick.

A 27 yard dash off tackle by Murrell featured the Army advance but West Point lost the ball on downs on Notre Dame's 32 yard line.

Used Second Backs

Notre Dame had its second string backfield in the game but they ripped through the Army defense for a swift series of gains. Three first downs put the ball on Army's 25 yard line but a triple pass failed to gain on a fourth down and the Cadets took the ball on their own 21 yard line.

After exchange punts Army cut loose from its own 36 yard line and Harry Wilson tearing off a brace of 19 yard spurts around the ends. The Hoosiers held tightly on their own 32 yard mark, however, and Army attempted a strategic punt which failed largely of its purpose by going out of bounds at Notre Dame's 15 yard line.

Rockne's ramblers had run the ball out to their 28 yard line when the first period ended with the rivals in a scoreless deadlock.

Starting the second period, Rockne rushed in Edwards, Flanagan and Hearden as back field replacements for Riley, Neime and Dahman. This combination with O'Boyle still at full-back opened a smashing off tackle drive from its own 21 yard line but a fumble by Hearden at mid-field was recovered in a wild scramble by Murrell and Army had the ball on its own 44 yard mark.

HERRIN GANGS ADOPT PLANES IN NEW FIGHT

Berger Promises He'll Get Plane for a Souvenir

Marion, Ill., Nov. 13—(AP)—A review of developments left Williamson County wondering today if the Birger-Shelton gang warfare would not take to the air.

The thought was prompted by an airplane bombing raid yesterday on Shady Rest, Charles Birger's road house, ten miles west of here.

Carl and Bernie Shelton, leaders of the latter gang, however, had been removed from the zone of operations. They were in jail at Danville where they were taken last night after their arrest on indictments charging complicity in a mail robbery at Collinsville, in January, 1925.

The airplane raid followed a bombardment of two houses in West City near here by men alleged to be members of the Birger gang.

Swooping down over Shady Rest, the plane with an unidentified pilot dropped three bombs, crumpled and made affairs, but only one of the missiles exploded, and that without damage.

Birger was not at the road house at the time. Soon afterward, he reported receiving a telephone call from two admitted members of the Shelton gang. The call informed him Birger said, that his place had been bombed and that there was a "message" for him in one of the missiles.

Exhibiting more bitterness than has marked recent declarations against the Sheltons, Birger exploded against the bombs he will bring it back here for a souvenir.

Evidently realizing that his armored truck had been antedated, Berger declared that he too, would get a plane and would use it.

Took Another's Car for a Ride: Paid Fine Today

Levin Sellers was fined $3 and costs by Justice J. O. Shaulis in police court yesterday afternoon on a charge of driving an automobile without the owner's consent. Sellers was arrested at a depot by the police as he was about to leave the city.

The complainant, who is employed as an attendant at the Dixon State hospital, swore out the warrant. It was alleged that Sellers took the car without the consent of the owner and figured in a wreck. He packed up his belongings and was about to depart from Dixon when Chief Van Elber found him.

Dates for Mailing of Christmas Gifts Abroad

Postmaster John E. Moyer advises the patrons of the local office that they should bear in mind the early mailing of letters, cards and gifts to be sent to relatives and friends in distant countries in order that they reach their destination before Christmas.

The dates of dispatch of the mails from the New York port are given below, and mailing here should be two days earlier: Canal Zone, Dec. 18, China Nov. 25, England Dec. 15, Finland Dec. 11, France Dec. 15, Germany Dec. 15, Greece Dec. 11, Ireland Dec. 11, Italy Dec. 11, Netherlands Dec. 15, Scotland Dec. 15 and Sweden Dec. 11.

Van Petten Car Was Stolen

A Ford coupe, 1926 model, belonging to Vincent May of Van Petten, was stolen last evening between 7 and 9 o'clock, it was reported to the police last night. Mr. May parked the car on Second St. between Ottawa and Galena avenues to attend the first performance at the Dixon theater, and left the key in the switch. When he returned, the car was missing.

The car bore Illinois state license plates, 225-140 and the engine number was 12,811,657. Chief Van Elber notified police departments of surrounding cities.

Rehearing of Case from Lee County is Refused

Springfield, Nov. 13—(AP)—Another rehearing was asked of the supreme court today by Ellen M. Tully, of Dixon, of the case in which she received judgment against Sheriff Frank A. Schoenholz. The case concerned chattel mortgages. In view of the fact that only one rehearing of a case is provided for, this petition will be denied. The case must be retried in the Lee county court, as the supreme court directed in its original ruling.

Cannon Unmoved by Visit to Place of His Birth in East

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 13—(AP)—Uncle Joe Cannon who died yesterday at his home in Danville, Ill., was born 50 years ago in Guilford County, near here, but apparently did not regard his birth place with high favor.

About 12 years ago, he paid the only visit of his life to the scene which he had left at the age of 4. He was driven in an automobile to visit the spot where he was born.

"Uncle Joe", said a member of the party, "there is where you were born."

"The hell it is", replied Mr. Cannon, unmoved. "Drive on."

SLOT MACHINES RE-APPEAR AND TWO ARE TAKEN

Deputy Richardson Uncovered Two and Seized Them

Slot machines, which recently were banned from Lee county, are reported to be making their reappearance in some places and deputies from the sheriff's office are making a collection.

Chief Deputy Fred Richardson heads the list with two machines to his credit, one taken from an Ashton filling station and the second from a restaurant in Franklin Grove.

Both machines are of the mint type, it is said. From reports, it appears that the machine in Ashton contained no mints and was being played with nickels. The machine found in Franklin Grove was said to have paid out mints occasionally.

Both were loaded up and taken to the county jail in accordance with the orders issued recently by State Attorney Mark C. Keller and Sheriff Elliott C. Risley.

DISAPPEARANCE OF SAVANNA MAN STILL A MYSTERY

Well Known Man Fails to Return from His Hunting Trip

Savanna, Ill.—Volunteer searchers are aiding police and county officials in the search for George Salzer, missing since early Wednesday morning. Although the accepted theory is that Salzer was drowned in the Mississippi river and large number of men are dragging the stream, other searchers are hunting for Salzer in the territory between the "Brick House," several miles north of the city, and Savanna.

Salzer, with Frank DeWitt, also of this city, left early Wednesday morning on a hunting trip. When they were ready to return the men parted company, DeWitt returning to the city by automobile and Salzer intending to return by boat and meet his friend here.

Since that time Salzer has not been seen and when he failed to return Thursday night a search was instituted. One party of hunters claims to have seen Salzer on Webster's Island, a short distance south of the Brick House, but no other trace has been uncovered.

Friday morning Salzer's boat was found tied to the dock on the Saana riverfront. The finding of the boat adds an element of mystery to the affair as no one has been found who knows anything about the return of the craft. When the boat was brought in, or who brought it, is a mystery and authorities are making an effort to check this circumstance.

While many persons think Salzer in some way fell from the boat and was drowned, the boat later being towed to shore by a passerby who found it drifting, others suspect foul play. Still another theory is that Salzer himself brought the boat back and either met some accident after his return to the city, or for some other unaccountable reason has failed to return home.

The mystery has caused great excitement throughout the city and all men who are able to do so are co-operating in the search in the wooded section and the dragging of the river.

LICENSED TO WED

The following marriage license was issued by County Clerk Fred G. Dimick this morning: Lawrence J. McDonald and Miss Hortense A. Rautenstrouch, both of this city.

OLD HERO OF CONGRESS HAD "PERFECT END"

Danville in Mourning as Nation Pours in Tributes

Danville, Ill., Nov. 13—(AP)—"Uncle Joe" Cannon, the nation's oldest statesman who ran for public office the year Lincoln was elected to the presidency, has found the rest he sought when he retired from public life three years ago and "came home to die."

He died the "perfect death," his personal physician, Dr. C. E. Wilkinson, commented today.

"I believe it will go down in history as one of the most unique which ever befell a great statesman. Usually they die suddenly, often comparatively young, through wear and tear. It was not so with Uncle Joe. He had no disease, whatever. Briefly, his physical machinery just wore out. He slept away peacefully."

Funeral Next Tuesday

Funeral services for the patriarch, who entered the long sleep at noon yesterday in the brown brick mansion from which he went to congress 55 years ago, will be held at 3 o'clock p. m. Tuesday with burial in Springfield cemetery, in the Vermillion hills, beneath a modest monument which he chose and had erected on the family lot. Definite arrangements will be made today with arrival of relatives. Services will be held at the St. James M. E. church here. Rev. T. N. Ewing, pastor, officiating.

This was the church of "Uncle Joe's" wife as well as his own. It stands directly across the street from a magnificent new edifice now under construction, for which Mr. Cannon himself turned the first shovel of dirt a few months ago. In the church, where the services will be held, the dead statesman will receive his final tribute beneath a profuse growth of ivy planted by Mrs. Cannon year ago which now covers the walls of the structure.

City Is in Mourning

Meanwhile this city made tentative plans for paying its last respects to its most illustrious son.

Throughout the business and residential districts, flags fluttered under a gray sky. In many downtown store windows large photographs of Mr. Cannon occupied central positions.

All business and industry will cease during the funeral hours.

The body will lie in state at the Cannon mansion Sunday.

Tributes Poured In

Tributes to the dead statesman poured in today from friends and former foes who recalled the vivid years when Cannon ruled the national house of representatives with an iron hand.

"The nation has lost one of its most able, interesting and beloved men of the last generation," President Coolidge said in a message of sympathy to Miss Helen Cannon, daughter of the former speaker. "He will always rank as a great American. His great influence gave his country a better government."

While Cannon's term of service in congress stretched over nearly a half century and was the longest on record, there was one man who "out-did" him. He is General J. W. Kiefer, 90, of Springfield, Ohio, a former speaker of the house who served with Uncle Joe for years in congress.

Always Called Him "The Kid"
"I always called Joe the 'kid' explained General Kiefer. You see he was 30 years old last May and I will be 81 years old on Jan. 31, so I am that much older than 'the kid.' He always enjoyed that little joke and often in his letters he would sign himself just that way."

At one time Danville had hopes of seeing its distinguished son in the White House for he received 55 votes for the republican nomination in 1903. He declined the nomination for the vice presidency in 19

TODAY'S MARKET REPORTS

Weekly Grain

Chicago, Nov. 13.—(AP)—American wheat traders and Canadian as well, are now virtually face to face with competition from the new crops both of Argentina and Australia. In this connection, figures current here today indicate that American and Canadian farmers have suffered millions of dollars loss by the British coal strike. At the same time corn showed a 2 to 3¢ drop and oats 1½¢ to 1½¢ lower.

Trade authorities here are pointing out that any serious impairment of the Australian or Argentine crop of wheat would have a decided bearing on prices in this country.

Meanwhile the amount of Canadian wheat in sight is shown to be larger than supposed.

Corn prices are being largely governed by 60 big supplies at terminal markets, including 14,500,000 bushels in Chicago. Oats have followed corn, despite curtailment of the oats crop in Canada.

Hog values at the year's lowest point tend to weaken the provision market.

Butter Market

Chicago, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The butter markets during the week showed considerable improvement which resulted in price advances on fresh butter on all markets except Boston where operators use large quantities of storage butter.

Fancy butter was in light supply and demand showed considerable improvement over the previous week. At the close of the week all markets were firm and supplies limited.

The daily net out of storage movement at the four markets for the last year's movement by a large margin, December options at Chicago, have shown very little change, advancing only 1-8 of a cent since November 1st. The storage holdings for the country released on Nov. 12 showed a total on hand Nov. 1, amounting to 100,589,000 pounds as compared with 94,916,000 lbs. on Nov. 1, 1925.

During this week, 1,150 casks of Siberian butter arrived at New York and is being offered at 48¢ duty paid. New Zealand offered to arrive at 46-1-2¢, Danish offered at 49¢ duty paid and small amount was purchased at this figure.

of the Public Drug & Book Co., the Rexall Store.

To Visit Stores.

Each afternoon between 1 and 5 o'clock Mr. Speed will visit some stores in the city, and any person who catches him while he is making a purchase, and who has a copy of the last edition of The Telegraph in hand, will get $25 in gold. Mr. Speed can be spotted easily by the Buick sedan, for he never leaves it parked more than a block away from the scenes of his calls.

In County Towns.

Monday Mr. Speed will make, in connection with his twenty Dixon home calls, several calls at homes in the following county towns—Amboy, Lee Center and Steward.

His parting warning over the week-end is: "Watch for the Buick sedan and this mysterious gentleman, and get your share of the gold."

PERSONALITY OF THE "BOOZE RING" maintaining printing establishments to turn out labels of many famous brands of pre-war and bonded liquors, as well as revenue stamps.

"Much of this stuff is really a synthetic preparation of raw alcohol and flavoring, or moonshine distilled alcohol," he added. "Because some of the chemicals used in denaturing alcohol have the same distillation temperature as alcohol, it is obviously impossible to separate the alcohol by redistillation."

During the preliminaries a bomb fired in salute fell in the south end of the crowd. One man was taken to an emergency hospital. Several others were slightly injured.

Captain Karow won the toss and chose to defend the south goal. The Buckeyes punted and Friedman was fumbled on her 11 yard line, the Buckeyes got the ball, smashed through for four yards on two plays then Clark dropped back to his 15 yard line and sent a pretty one straight between the posts. Score, Ohio State 3, Michigan 0.

Michigan failed to make a fourth down and Ohio took the ball. Grim flashed through the center of the line for 18 yards. Bell dropped back and heaved the ball forty yards to Karow. The Buckeye captain rolled six inches from the goal line. He took it over on the next play and Clark made the extra point.

Score: Ohio State 10; Michigan 0.

It was fourth down for Michigan and seven to go as the second period started, with the ball on its 40 yard line. Gilbert punted and Grim brought the ball back 18 yards. They punted on the third play and Friedman was thrown for a three yard loss as he caught the ball on his 49 yard line. Michigan then made first down for the second time of the game.

Line plunges brought the ball to Ohio's 23 yard line and Friedman tried a kick. It went far wide. Ohio's ball on her 20 yard line. Bell brought through the line for 12 yards, Karow whipped through center for three more, Ohio punted and it was Michigan's ball on her 36 yard line.

OLD MASTERS

Like as the waves make toward the pebbled shore,
So do our minutes hasten to their end;

Each changing place with that which goes before,
In sequent toil all forwards do contend.

Nativity, one in the main of light,
Crawls to maturity, wherewith being crown'd,

Crook'd lips 'gainst his glory fight,
And Time that gave, doth now his gift confound.

Time doth transfix the flourish set on youth,
And delves the parallels in beauty's brow;

Feeds on the rarities of nature's truth,
And nothing stands but for his scythe to mow;

And yet to times in hope, my verse
Shall stand
Praising Thy worth, despite his cruel hand.

—Shakespeare: Revolutions.

District "Pep" Meeting and Reception was Held Last Evening

The "pep" meeting and reception given last evening by Minnie Bell Lodge of this city in I. O. O. F. Hall was very well attended.

There were present eight from Morrison, ten from Amboy, thirteen from Rock Falls, fifteen from Lee Center, sixteen from Polo, nineteen from Ashton, twenty-one from Sterling, and one from Ackley, Iowa, besides a great number of Dixon members, the total being about two hundred.

Mrs. Emma K. Mrs. Nora Herrick who has recently been appointed Left Supporter to the Vice President of the R. S. A. was introduced by Mrs. Emma Kennedy and Miss Ella Kentner, chairman of the Credential Committee of the R. S. A. and Vice President of Dist. No. 8 was introduced by Mrs. Irene Mills.

The following district officers were present: Mrs. Nellie Drummond, Pres. of Dist. No. 8, Ashton, Ill.; Miss Ella Kentner, Vice President; Mrs. Lillian Pfluh of Rock Falls, Warden, and Mrs. Helen Moore of Ashton, Secretary. The following "past presidents" of the district were in attendance: Mrs. Susie Sinclair, Mrs. Mary Filson, Dixon; Mrs. Mary Schmalt, Amboy; Mrs. Hattie Ebersole, Mrs. Mary Boehm Sterling; Mrs. Elsie Johnson, Polo and Mrs. Mary McMillen of Morrison. All the district officers and past presidents of the district were introduced by past noble grand of Dixon. All of these officers gave short talks of much interest and showing the enthusiasm brought forth by these "pep" meetings. Mrs. Robbins spoke briefly of new ways of doing lodge work.

Mrs. Hattie Rossiter, in a few well-chosen words presented Mrs. Robbins and Mrs. Herrick with gifts from Minnie Bell Lodge. Mrs. Kentner also presented these ladies with gifts. Mrs. Morris presented Miss Kentner and Mrs. Drummond with gift from the Dixon Rebekahs. All thanked the donors graciously.

After the regular lodge work was completed and preparations for the program were being made, all present met the honored guests in an informal reception.

The following program was given for all present: Violin Solo by Mr. Louis Snow, accompanied by Mrs. Westgate. They graciously responded with an encore.

Play—"More Time Out". In this play many of the guests found themselves impersonated and having a trying time with the modern servant problem. It was delightfully given and was enjoyed by all. Piano solo, Miss Gladys Herrick, "Style Show". In this style show many styles of days gone by were shown. Each model was cleverly introduced by Mr. Rossiter and took their parts in a fine manner. The exit was very comical.

Tempting refreshments were then served in the dining hall. The tables were tastefully decorated in Rebekah colors. Baskets of bitter sweet and autumn leaves added a note of color to the lodge room of the beautiful I. O. O. F. hall.

Altogether the evening was one of pleasure to all present, much of the success being due to the untiring efforts of the executive committee.

Kingdom-Mt. Union Aid Soc. Meeting

The Kingdom-Mt. Union Aid Society held an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. John Stanley on the Truesdell road on Wednesday. A delicious picnic dinner was enjoyed, and after dinner the ladies sewed on old clothing which had been furnished for a family of school children who are in need.

A business meeting was held, being opened with the singing of a hymn. The minutes and roll call were read. Mrs. Cummins gave two pleasing vocal selections. As there was no new business and everyone wanted to accomplish as much sewing as possible, the meeting was closed by the singing of a hymn and the repetition of the Lord's prayer.

The next meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. George Patterson on Route 4, will be held in three weeks instead of two weeks, on account of Thanksgiving coming on that date. The ladies serving on the program at the next meeting are Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Leland Brink and Mrs. George Crawford.

Aid Those Detained At Ellis Island

A call has been issued from National Headquarters of the D. A. R. for donations of material to be used in the detention room on Ellis Island. For one reason or another immigrants must be and are detained there—some of them for a long time. If kept there with nothing to do to take up their time and attention, they become very unhappy. Occupation brings a different atmosphere. Materials needed are: yards of all kinds, colors and quantities, cotton dress material in pieces of not less than a yard in length, stamped embroidery, with cotton or silk for working, crocheted cotton, both colored and white; knitting cotton, crocheted hooks, all sizes; thimbles, scissors, needles, and large steel knitting needles. Members of the D. A. R. will please leave their donations with the chairman, Miss Laura Murphy, 409 Second St., as early as possible.

ASHTON COUPLE MARRIED IN ROCKFORD

WANT A GARDEN NEXT SPRING? NATURE WILL DO THE WORK—By Olive Roberts Barton

At the convention of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association in Philadelphia, I was pleased to observe that a statement was made to the effect that the famous gardens of English estates were now inferior to American ones. I regretted, however, that an amendment was added intimating that there was not the general interest in flowers in America that there is across the water. Be that as it may, I believe most firmly that the time is coming very soon when such a statement will not be true. People have held back from the simple business of growing their own potted beds largely because they imagine it to be a complicated, difficult business that requires a sort of sixth special sense to operate.

Now they are beginning to learn that it is the simplest thing in the world to turn up a bit of soil and put in a few seeds, or bulbs. Nature does the rest. As usual, Mother Nature will come ninety-nine per cent of the way, if we take but one step in her direction. But we must take the first step.

Do you realize that an ugly little bulb that looks like an onion, stuck into the ground a couple of inches (the ground is soft and muddy now and this is the time for bulbs, any time before the ground freezes hard) will be a beautiful tulip or Jonquil or hyacinth early in the spring without any further effort on your part? Freezing doesn't hurt it. Nothing will hurt it short of digging it up, and you have no idea what a thrill you will get when you see it poking its little green nose above the ground in March.

Bulbs are cheap! I paid twenty-five cents a dozen for tulips the other day. And a dozen makes quite a show. For a dollar you can have a whole bed of them. And they come up every year for you without you so much as whistling. Department stores, seed stores, and even 5 and 10 cent stores sell bulbs.

You can't get imported bulbs this year. They are the best, of course. But somebody passed a law keeping them out of our country. Why, I do not know. They were not diseased. Our biggest seed merchants assure us they were perfect. Why the law no one knows! But we have home-grown bulbs! They may not be so big or have such large blossoms but they will be sweet and gay. When they finish blooming, matter a dime's worth of flower seed for summer. You will never be without flowers after that. You need very little ground.

DELIGHTFUL VACATION TRIP TO INDIANA, OHIO, KENTUCKY—

Editor Writes All News Heads in Rhyme

Webster, S. D.—(AP)—There is an editor in Webster who has connived with the muses. Will A. Wells, of the Journal, writes his heads in rhyme.

For all ordinary stories, Mr. Wells uses a rhyming head of three decks—a single cross-line, followed by two pyramided hanks. Where a head in verse is not appropriate, Editor Wells resorts to a prose caption which flows in continuous thought.

When the owner of an illicitly operated still was arrested, the Journal said: "A great big still and a hot gin mill, were found the other day—Sara and Sol made quite a haul, and put the man away." At the beginning of school: "The class of 1939, a bonny bunch of kiddies fine—the start to school, which is the rule, you ought to see their faces shine!"

HAZING, AND ITS RESULTS.

Hazing, says the very student body of the University of Michigan, must go.

College faculties began saying it long ago when students were killed, ound to railroad tracks by merry fellow students, or maimed for life by some equally coy prank.

Hazing has lost much of its fire as colleges grow older, but that it is still too far from funny, is demonstrated when the students vote against it.

It will take a long time to really oust this tradition of hazing. They banned it long ago in the old University of Heidelberg, scene of "The Student Prince."

But even today the quaint old town streets are full of students with faces gashed into a dozen patterns.

They no longer fight the fencing duels on university property, but there's a little house across the river where a buxom proprietress, serving her beer, laughs at the sword-slashing studenters, and where a doctor sits on his raised dais to bind the wounds of the injured.

You can't convince a Heidelberg lad that hazing or delling is wrong.

He's proud of his gashes; the more his face resembles a blueberry pie, the better!

WHAT DOES WELLS MEAN?

H. G. Wells, probably Britain's greatest modern thinker and author, has written a new book. It is called "William Clissold."

This fellow Clissold is a garrulous sort, saying what he jolly well pleases.

Now comes the great British public complaining that what he jolly well pleases is very apt to be jolly well insulting to each and every good Britisher. Some even go so far as to say that the nasty remarks Clissold makes are not his at all, but belong to this H. G. Wells.

They don't like this remark, for instance. Clissold, speaking of His Majesty, the king, remarks—

"A worthy, conscientious and entirely unmeaning and uninteresting son of plump old Edward VII."

Wells insists that he cannot help the frank speech of his friend, Mr. Clissold.

Now let's see how long he gets away with that!

NOT USELESS.

A German historian has just presented a new and intimate account of the career of former Kaiser Wilhelm II of Germany.

His portrait is hardly flattering, even though his treatment of the dethroned emperor is sympathetic. He shows how Europe again and again was led to the verge of war because of Wilhelm's passion for playing the "great power" game. He shows how Wilhelm rejected an alliance with England, a score of years ago, because he wanted to develop a big navy—as assort of toy, one gathers—and with Germany and Britain allied this would have been impossible. He shows how the foreign policy of Germany again and again was shaped, not in accordance with the aspirations of its people, but in accord with Wilhelm's own overweening ambitions.

It's a book worth reading, in these days when you find so many people wondering if the World War wasn't just a frightfully useless blunder on the part of all concerned.

A blunder it may have been; but not useless. Not entirely so. Whatever may be said, at least the peace of Europe is not now dependent on the whims and caprices of one egotistic, fame-seeking man. At least the world has learned that the "great power" game is dangerous to play at when the lives of millions must be the pawns.

THOSE 5-CENT CIGARS.

Tom Marshall's remark about this country lacking a good five-cent cigar may still be true. But there certainly are plenty of them.

Department of Agriculture statisticians report that during July production of cigars selling at five cents or less reached a high record exceeded only by two months in history. The output was 281,555,115 for the month.

Either five-cent cigars are getting good or a lot of congressional candidates spent some money.

Mussolini has ruled no anti-fascist names may be given babies. We recommend the fine Irish name of Benito.

Add to the Fall-Doheny black satchel that newly famous receptacle, the Klan's black box in Indiana.

Narrow minds make excellent bores.

All the world's a stage and all the men and women merely dial twisters.

Speaking of Marie's train, one might appropriately shout "They're off!"

Famous last lines: "Let's drop in here for a bite. They say it's cheap."

THE TINYMITES

BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY. THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

While all the other Tines searched, old Clowzy Tinymite was perched atop the basement furnace. He had been there through the night. He didn't know that all the hand was scared and could not understand where he could be, and so he thought that everything was right.

When morning came, he rubbed his eyes, and then began to realize that he had best be sneaking out before the farmer came. He'd left the tool chest in the dark and found this high up place to park. "If I am caught, he figured. I'm the one I'll have to blame."

He stood up on the furnace top, but my 'twas much too far to drop. Now how was Clowzy going to find his way down to the ground? And then, a fine thing caught his eye, a can of ashes right nearby. "Gee, I can jump," he shouted. Then he took a mighty bound.

He landed on the top of it and never hurt himself a bit. 'Twas easy then for him to hang, and drop down to the floor. It happened that the ash can stood right near the stairs, and that was good, 'cause that's the place that Clowzy Tinymite was heading for.

He started running up the stairs. Then came another of his scares. The upstairs door flew open just as Clowzy reached the top. The farmer's boot was at his side, a perfect place for him to hide. He jumped right in the open place and fell right in between two sheets of the white paper, and without definite purpose she drew it out and studied it.

All the color drained out of her cheeks as she saw that it contained the final bit of evidence necessary to prove that the letters had been written in Bob Hathaway's office. Only two letters had been written with that particular piece of carbon—one evidently a business letter, the other, farther down the sheet and blocked in the center of the sheet, a letter which contained the words "Chris Wiley" and "Cherry". The words were as they were were still plainly readable on the glossy purple surface of the carbon paper. She did not dare take time to read the tell-tale message, preserved on the face of the carbon, with the aid of her hand-bag mirror, but folded it and stuffed it into her handbag, feeling like a criminal, and as if the world had turned upside down.

She was seated and waiting, with apparent composure, when the stenographer came singing into the room.

"Oh, Valencia, in my dreams, it always seems—oh hello! I didn't know anyone was here. D-d you want to see Mr. Hathaway?" She ran a highly manicured hand over the sleek cap of her mannishly bobbed hair and looked at Faith with shoe-black, Oriental eyes, heavily lashed with mascara.

"Yes," Faith answered. "Is he in? I'm Miss Lane—Miss Faith Lane."

The girl's eyes opened wide in startled surprise almost terror, then narrowed to mere slits as she answered.

you look like a Paris mannequin. Why, you're stunning!"

Perhaps it was the psychological effect of knowing that she had never looked better in her life that gave Faith the courage to open the outer door of Bob Hathaway's suite of offices in the Masonic Building, when she arrived at half past eleven.

There was no one in the reception room, and the door marked "Mr. Robert Hathaway, private" was closed. Faith stood uncertainly for a moment in the middle of the small but well furnished room, guessing from the condition of the stenographer's desk in the corner that the girl had just left the room to renew her make-up. A sheet of paper half filled with typing, was in the typewriter, and an open notebook with a pencil across it lay on the drawn-out leaf of the desk.

Hardy of her own volition, Faith moved toward the desk, her cheeks burning at the thought that she was turning spy—and that the person to be spied upon was the man she loved.

Fearing detection every moment, she bent and swiftly opened first the top and then the second drawer of the desk, noting as she did so that the machine was an Underwood. Score one for Cherry's deductions! In the second drawer she found what she was looking for—blank white envelopes and white typewriting paper, commercial letter size, the sort of paper which had borne the black-mailing letters which Cherry had received. Her fingers trembled violently as she opened her large black patent leather hand bag and inserted a hastily folded sheet of the paper and an envelope. The purple edge of a piece of carbon paper showed between two sheets of the white paper, and without definite purpose she drew it out and studied it.

All the color drained out of her cheeks as she saw that it contained the final bit of evidence necessary to prove that the letters had been written in Bob Hathaway's office. ## CORN YIELD ONLY SLIGHTLY BELOW AVERAGE IN ILL.

But is of Very Varying Quality, is Report of State Dept.

Springfield, Ill., (AP)—Corn yield per acre in Illinois is only slightly below average, but is of such varying quality as to require more extra work and care in handling than any crop since 1917, the November 1 joint crop report of the Illinois and federal Departments of Agriculture said.

"Farm field work continues very backward and is reported ten days below normal," the report said.

"Outstanding causes contributing to the discouraging quality situation in most crops this season are: Extensive frost damage to corn on September 26 in the northern three or four rows of counties and prolonged period of abnormal rainfall, quite generally extending from early August into October."

tending from early August into October.

Crop Damage Record

"Crop damage from rains and floods was widespread through the central portion of the state and the worst on record in the low land areas along the Illinois and Mississippi rivers and smaller streams."

"Thousands of acres of corn are a total loss in the bottom lands of these areas. Storms have blown down considerable corn in some sections and the loss from rot and mold is heavier than usual."

"The latter half of October was favorable for drying out corn but low lands continue too wet for field work. Practically no corn was sufficiently dried for cribbing at the close of the month. With favorable weather, husking will get under way the first week in November and will be general by the 15th. The more favorable yields and quality are reported from an area extending across the upper central section of the state and in the southeastern counties."

50 Per Cent Matured

"Except in the northern counties damaged by September frost, the bulk of the corn crop in the remainder of the state matured-as frosts held off until the third week of October. Slightly over fifty percent of the corn matured in the northern counties, 25 percent more or less chaffy and 25 percent varies from very chaffy to fodder and silage."

"Some chaffy corn extends into upper central counties. There will be considerable good corn in the central and southern areas, but careful sorting will be necessary at husking time. Reports indicate that eighty one percent of the crop will be husked, eight percent cut for silage and 11 percent grazed or hogged off."

"The quality of Illinois corn is rated at 73 percent of normal compared with 50 percent last year and average of 82 percent. Silage corn yield below average as most fields were too wet for cutting when ready for the silo. Many silos are only partially filled this season."

No Extra Cost

Safest - Smoothest - Simplest 4 Wheel Brakes

This brake system is exclusive to Nash and was engineered to embody the finest features developed by foreign and American 4-wheel brake authorities as well as the superiorities worked out by Nash over an extended period of 4-wheel brake experience.

Among its chief advantages is the fact that the smoothly powerful performance of these brakes is never impaired by climatic changes. And being of the mechanical type they operate with invariable regularity at all temperatures.

They possess perfect automatic equalization, right to left, front and rear.

Thus Nash eliminates the possibility of the side-sway or skidding on wet or icy roads under rapid brake application which occurs with rear wheel brakes or partially-equalized 4-wheel brakes.

SCOTT MONROE WINGERT (Continued)

Scott Monroe Wingert was born at Franklin Grove, Ill., Sept. 17, 1871, and departed this life Nov. 9, 1926.

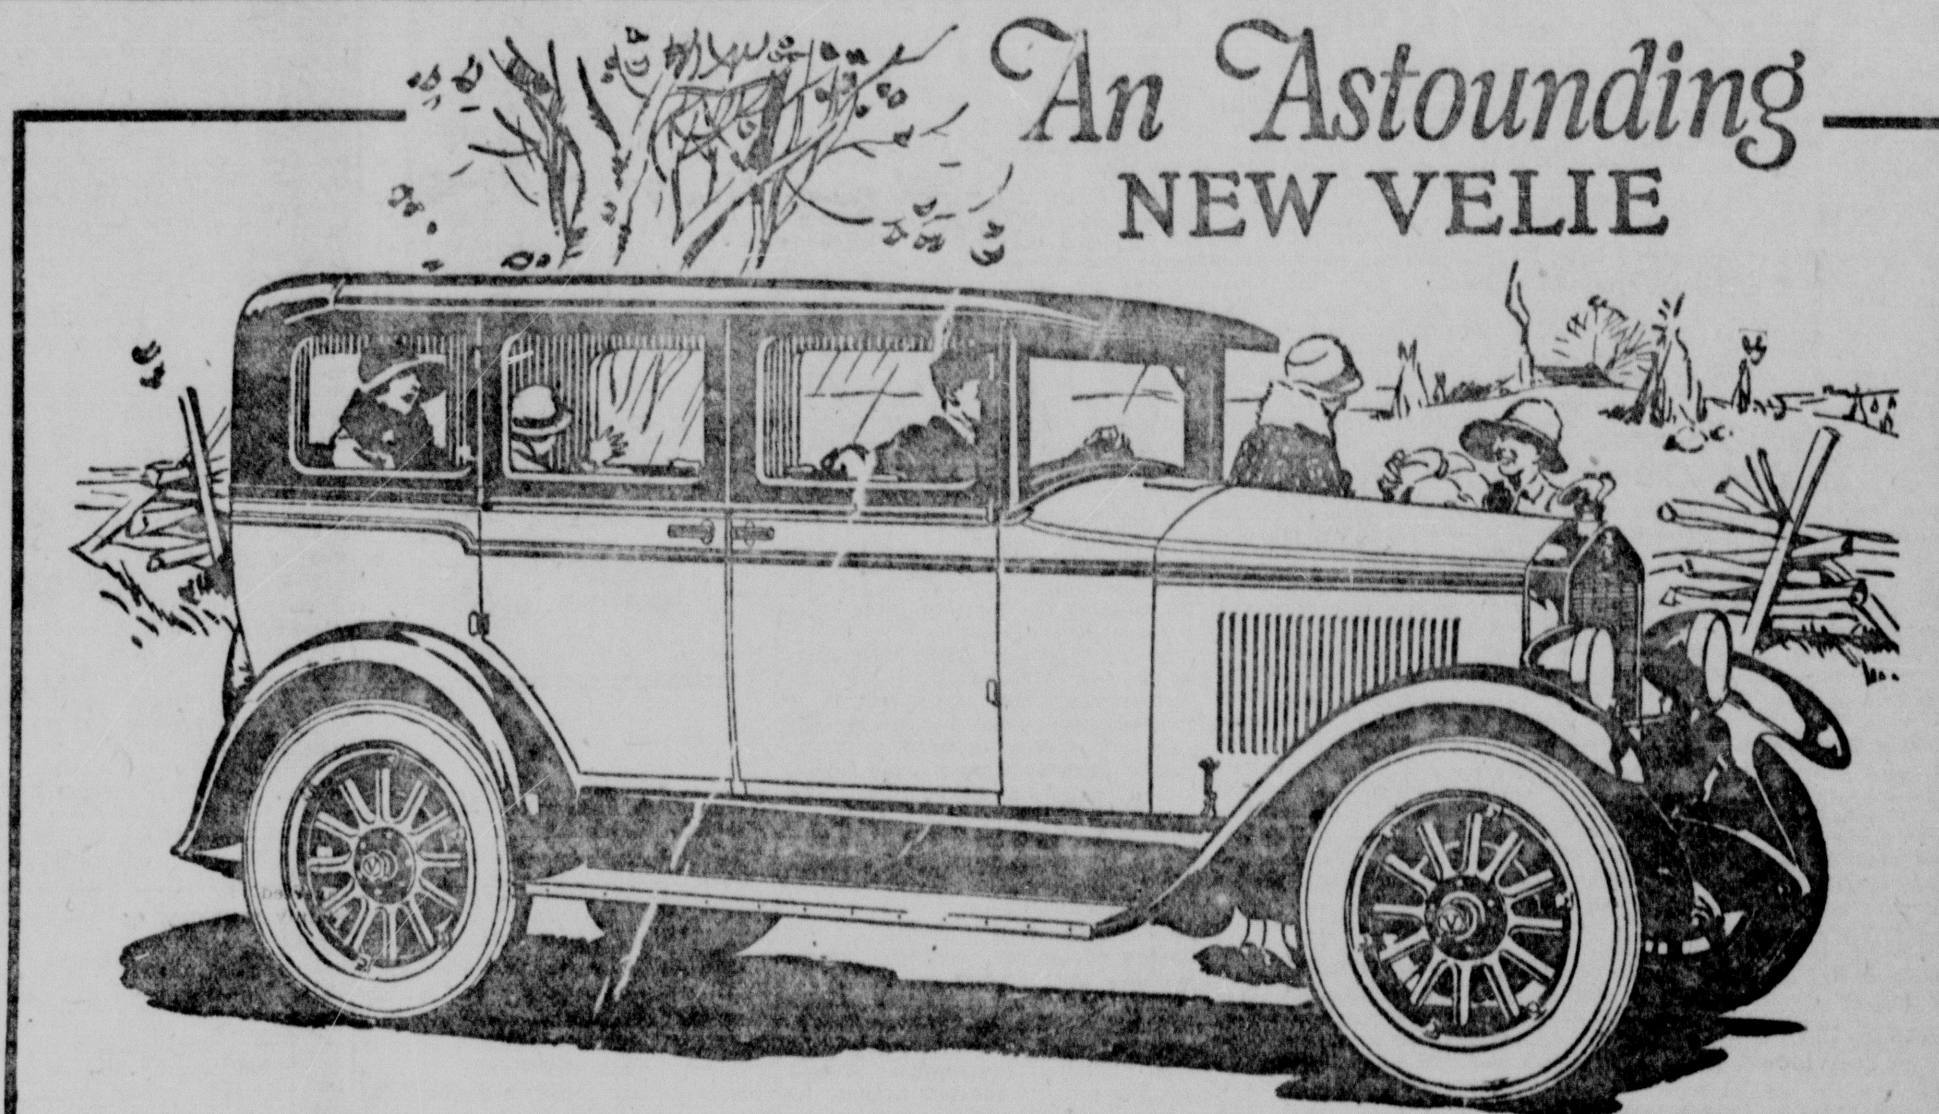

He was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Wingert. His early life was spent in his home northwest of town and for the last twenty-four years he made his home with his brother Harry at Kingsley, Iowa. He united with the Church of the Brethren at the age of seventeen. While at Kingsley he was an earnest worker in the church of his choice, serving a number of years as Superintendent of the Sunday school, also in the capacity of deacon. He is leaving at Kingsley a host of friends, for he was a friend to old and young alike.

For two years he has been in failing health. Sept. 1 he submitted to an operation after which for a time he seemed to improve. Later complications set in and all that kind hands could do was of no avail. His tired spirit took its flight to the world where there is no pain nor tears. He leaves to mourn his departure, his aged parents, one sister, Ada, at home, two brothers, Harry of Kingsley, Iowa and Frank of Franklin Grove, and two nephews and three nieces. Now we say God's will not ours be done.

First Fatal Hunting Mishap at Taylorville

BIG CROWD WILL SEE ELGIN AND CLINTON LEGION TEAMS BATTLE IN DIXON TOMORROW AFTERNOON

Grudge Game Between Bitter Rivals to be Played Here

Everything has been made ready for Sunday afternoon's grudge battle between the Clinton and Elgin Legion football teams at the Brown Field on West First street. The grounds have been given a thorough going over this week and laid out for the game which will start promptly at 2:30. Every indication points to a record attendance, as both cities report large delegations of fans coming to Dixon to witness the battle. Dixon has always proven a wonderful battle ground for both Elgin and Clinton. The followers of the game have always turned out in large numbers to come to Dixon as it is most accessible and paved highways connect both cities with but a short run from each. Dixon fans, who have been forced to seek out of town games this fall, will have an opportunity of seeing two big teams in action as well as several of the local players, who will again don the moleskins and assist Elgin in every way possible. The game will also draw a large following from the several surrounding towns as it is the main attraction of the weekend in this locality.

Elgin Determined.
Elgin is coming to Dixon with a grim determination to win. In their last game with Clinton, the Iowa team came out in the last few minutes of play and scored 13 points, holding Elgin scoreless. The sporting editor of the Clinton Advertiser, referring to tomorrow's contest says:

"Elgin gave Clinton as big a battle in the game here and the Elgin management realized that hundreds of Clinton fans would be anxious to see the return engagement. Elgin fans are also anxious to see the game so it was agreed to put on the contest at Dixon which is about midway between the two towns, thus giving fans from both Elgin and Clinton an opportunity to see the battle. Dixon is also keenly interested in the contest because of the fact that four former Dixon players are included in the Elgin lineup.
"Clinton and Dixon were bitter rivals and the locals were always great drawing cards in that city. Elgin was also keen rival of the Dixon club and fans from Dixon are divided in supporting the two opposing teams. As Dixon has no pro team this year the game Sunday will be the only important pro game of the year on the Dixon field."

ARMY FAVORED TO TAKE GAME THIS AFTERNOON

Experts Think Veteran Cadets Should Trim Notre Dame

New York, Nov. 13—(AP)—Two undefeated challengers for country wide football supremacy, Army and Notre Dame, were primed today for their annual intersectional classic at Yankee Stadium. The Cadets were favored to turn back the silk-panted warriors of South Bend, Ind., for the second consecutive year. Parisien and O'Boyle, Notre Dame backs, were on the injured list.
Army had available almost the same eleven that defeated Notre Dame 27-6 last fall. The Rockne men, wiser and stronger than the green aggregation that wilted before the Army last year, also were veterans.

MICHIGAN FAVORITES
Columbus, O., Nov. 13—(AP)—Continuance in the conference title race was at stake in today's football game between Ohio State and Michigan.
Both squads were confident of victory and Coaches Jack Wilce and Yost shared their feelings. Odds among supporters favored the Wolverines.
The Yostmen, directed by their all-American quarterback, Benny Friedman, passer extraordinary, are equipped with a versatile attack which counts as strong assets the battering of Melenda and Weber, the strong punting and running ability of Gilbert and Friedman's well versed toe.
The battering of Captain Marty Karow is one of the strong spots of Ohio State's offense which also calls for end runs and off tackle darts by Eby, Grim and Marek. Augmenting this is the passing attack directed by Grim, Clarke, Marek or Robin Bell.

MOST SENATORS VOICE APPROVAL OF COURT SPEECH

President Praised by Many After Kansas City Address

Washington, Nov. 13—(AP)—Interest in the capital in the world court situation revived today as President Coolidge resumed his duties at the White House after a three day trip to Kansas City during which he declared in his Armistice Day speech that the United States would join the tribunal on its own terms or remain outside.
In the face of considerable confusion and variance in the answers of the few member powers to the inquiry of the United States as to the acceptability of the senate reservations to the protocol of adherence, President Coolidge was pictured as confident that his declaration in the west would lead to final and decisive steps toward the determination of the question of America's membership.
The President's statement was regarded as certain to remove any doubt as to the determination of the United States to take the court on its own terms or leave it alone.
The next week, in the expectations of the president's advisers, should see an end to the prolonged delay on the part of signatory powers in replying to Secretary Kellogg's inquiries regarding the attitude on the reservations.

Washington, Nov. 12—(AP)—Mixed feelings in which approval seemed to predominate, were expressed today in senatorial comment upon President Coolidge's declaration yesterday at Kansas City, that there would be little prospect of American adherence to the world court unless the nations now members accepted the senate reservations.
"Mighty good so far as it goes," said Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, who led the group of eighteen senators in vigorous opposition to American adherence, even with reservations but Senator Bruce, democrat, Maryland, staunch supporter of the court with safeguarding reservations declared that "the world court will survive this valedictory."
"Fortunately for the country, the president remains a sterling American," said Senator Mores, republican, New Hampshire, member of the foreign relations committee.
Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, who helped phrase the reservations and was a leader in the senate fight for ratification, said "the President's speech accurately expresses the attitude of the senate." Senator Swanson, democrat, Virginia, took virtually the same attitude as Senator Walsh.

wind shield. They were bruised up a little but nothing serious. They were able to return home in the car.

SENATE POLITICS BOILING; SESSION OVER YEAR AWAY

Republicans Will Make Every Effort to Organize Chamber

Washington, Nov. 12—(AP)—Preliminary skirmishes in the fight that looms over control of the senate in the 70th congress have begun although the organization of that body still is a year away.
Facing the possibility of a situation similar to that of three years ago, when republican insurgents joined with democrats in forcing selection of a democrat as chairman of the interstate commerce committee, although all other chairmanships were held by republicans, Senator Borah, Idaho, has suggested that party leaders permit Senator L. J. Frazier, North Dakota, to rejoin the republican ranks after two years since his banishment from the party councils.
Indications that the republicans will make every effort to organize the new senate also were found in the appeal made by Senator Curtis, Kansas, the party flood leader, to the republicans of Maine to elect one of their number at the special election on Nov. 23 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Fernald.
But even if the republicans win that contest their position at the helm remains precarious because they will have only 47 seats in the new senate with the democrats having the same number and the other two held by Senator Shipstead, farmer labor, Minnesota and Senator Frazier.

TALKING TIRES WOMEN LESS

Brussels—(AP)—Talking fatigues women less than it does men, a Flemish scientist says in a dry objective way, without entering into the controversy as to whether the female is more talkative than the male.
The scientist explains his statement by two facts: first, that the greater length of the vocal chords, the more energy is required to produce a sound; second, that the vocal chords of women are shorter than those of men.

MANY ANECDOTES OF CANNON ARE NOW RECALLED

"Uncle Joe" Left Reminders in Many Various Ways

No man so quaint and so picturesque as "Uncle Joe" Cannon, who died yesterday, could remain in Washington a half a century and leave no reminder of himself in anecdotes. Here are some of the stories they tell of "Uncle Joe."

Once when he was asked for an authentic sketch of his life he replied, characteristically:

"Mr. Cannon was born of God-fearing and man-loving parents. He made himself and he did a darn poor job of it."

A book agent was too much for "Uncle Joe" once and he bought 60 volumes of an American historical work. The set proved to be worthless both as a historical authority and as literature. When he received the bill he paid it promptly, making the following indorsement on the check:

"This check is in full payment, both legal and moral, for 60 volumes of books, called for in the contract. The books are not worth a damn, too old to learn, but the way you and are high at that. We are never representative put it over your Uncle Joseph is worth this check."

For exercise "Uncle Joe" liked to ride down Pennsylvania avenue on a bicycle.

"I had to give it up though," he confessed. "I never got so I could spit or change my mind without having the old machine turn turtle."

"Uncle Joe" stuck to the old-fashioned notion that drafts are fatal. One of his favorite sayings was "Your back to a draft and your face to a coffin."

Cannon was frequently suggested for vice president, but the veteran lawmaker always vetoed any suggestion of that order.

"You'll see me an archangel before you'll see me a vice president," he said once.

Back in Roosevelt's administration John Wesley Gaines of Tennessee delivered a long tirade on extravagance in connection with a delicacy order covering renovations of the executive mansion. Gaines asked what had become of a famous sideboard put into the White House during the Hayes administration by the W. C. T. U. Then he said it had been sold as second-hand furniture and now adorned a cheap barroom.

Cannon spoke up.

"We are told in history that the good Abigail Adams, wife of the second president, used to hang her wash to dry in the east room."

"Great God, men, what has become of that clothes line!"

After Cannon's marriage to a Methodist girl, he was read out of the Quaker church. To be restored to membership, he would only have to get up in meeting and publicly announce regret. An old Quaker friend seeing him a few days after his expulsion, pointed to this course.

"If he'd only waited a year or so I might have been willing to express regret," Cannon said later. "As it was, I told him to go plumb to hell."

Asked his prediction for the political situation for the next ten years, Cannon replied:

"I'm no prophet, but I know the United States will get out of enormous debts and problems left by the war with satisfaction to the nation at large—although I'm likely to be wearing a cotton halo by then."

Cannon always fought anything or anybody bearing a "reform" label. He used to quote this verse in that connection:

I'm thankful that the moon and sun
Are both hung up so high
That no pretentious hand can stretch
And pull them from the sky.

If they were not, I have no doubt
But some reforming ass
Would recommend to take them down
And light the world with gas.

PRESIDENT BATH BANK IS MISSING; CAUSE UNKNOWN

Car Found in Peoria; No Trace of Man is Uncovered

Havana, Ill., Nov. 12—(AP)—Mose Morris of Havana, director of the State Bank of Bath, declared today that the recent disappearance of the bank's president, Lawrence B. Travers, was a deep mystery to all connected with the bank.

Travers' automobile was found in a Peoria garage yesterday but there was no trace of him. Examiners of the State Auditor's office, Mr. Morris said, are working with the bank's books, but thus far have made no report. Mr. Morris said he had no idea why Travers should disappear, and would as willingly believe that some accident had befallen him as that he had disappeared voluntarily.

Four bank examiners are checking every entry in the bank's books since Travers became its president twelve years ago.

No Criminal Charges

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 12—(AP)—In the absence of any criminal charges, police here were not searching for Lawrence B. Travers, missing bank president of Bath, though his car was found in a downtown garage here last night. A brother-in-law of the missing man was here to search for Travers, who was recognized on the

DIOCESAN PRIESTS DISCUSS JUBILEE FOR THE BISHOP

Celebration to be Held as Soon as Prelate Can be Present

A meeting of a number of the leading priests from all sections of the Rockford diocese was held at St. Mary's rectory in Sterling Thursday. The meeting was called to take action on the silver jubilee of Bishop Muldoon which was to have taken place last July, was postponed owing to the illness of the bishop. The unanimous opinion of the clergymen present, was that the jubilee shall be held just as soon as the bishop of the diocese is able to take part. That should be in the near future. All reports coming from the Bishop's hospital in St. Louis are very encouraging and it is expected that he will be in his residence in Rockford in a very short time.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Clement Kalvaldeice, Vicar-General of the Rockford diocese, could not be present owing to feeble health but sent his regrets. The session was held at eleven o'clock and the visiting priests were guests of the clergy of St. Mary's for dinner.

The Bishop's jubilee committee is composed of the following: Rev. Andrew J. Burns, Sterling, chairman; Rt. Rev. Msgr. Kalvaldeice, St. James' Cathedral, Rockford, secretary; Rev. J. P. McGuire, Aurora; Rev. James A. Quinn, Aurora; Rev. M. A. Shumacher, Aurora; Rev. D. J. Conway, Woodstock; Rev. H. A. Hauser, Elgin; Rev. A. J. Solon, DeKalb; Rev. Michael Foley, Dixon; Rev. Nicholas Berg, Stockton; Rev. A. J. Heindler, Freeport.

Flashes of Life

Chicago — While some eastern papers favor abolishing football because of the Harvard-Princeton dispute, here are the views of Commissioner Griffith of the Western Conference about the game: "It breeds sportsmanship. It teaches a quarter of a million young men every week how to take a licking."

West Point—Perhaps some of the boys at the military academy wish that Queen Marie could visit them again in order that they might attend the Army-Navy game. Anyhow, it turns out that when she reviewed the corps all punishment for minor offenses was wiped out, in accordance with the academy's custom.

A check for $1000 was sent recently by radio from London to New York.

BYERS SPEAKER AT BANQUET OF DEKALB LEGION

Chronicle Says Dixon
Man's Address was Inspiration

John H. Byers of this city, secretary to Congressman W. R. Johnson, delivered the principal address at an Armistice Day banquet sponsored by the DeKalb American Legion, which was attended by over 200 ex-service men. Concerning his address the DeKalb Chronicle says:

Following a musical program in which pupils of Conductor Jeffers of the city band took part, an address was given by John H. Byers of Dixon, that will live long in the memory of the ex-service men who heard him. Mr. Byers, former representative from this district, and now secretary to Congressman Johnson of the 13th district, devoted his address to patriotism.

Patriotism, stated Mr. Byers, is love for one's country for which the serving in the army, navy or marine corps is not the only method in which it may be displayed. A person, who makes an effort to secure every voter to go to the polls on an election day does his patriotic duty, stated Mr. Byers. The person who refuses to vote when he has the right, is as much a slacker as the person who objected to serving with the American forces.

Mr. Byers also criticized the plans that many persons are making for peace, taking aim at the proposals to reduce the size of the army and navy as a peace move. Army and navy should be recruited to full strength as peace measures. A country with a good army and a modern navy stands less chance of being insulted, attacked or ridiculed than does a country that has armed forces that are insignificant.

During his address Mr. Byers also urged the ex-service men to unite, telling them of the power they would be in this country if they united into a strong organization, such as the American Legion. His address was well given and greatly enjoyed by the ex-service men who had an opportunity of hearing him.

Strong Appeal in Red Cross Poster

THIS new American Red Cross poster, the work of Lawrence Wilbur, is regarded as one of the most notable of Red Cross Roll Call posters since the world-famous "Greatest Mother in the World" design of war days.

More than 150,000 copies of this new poster, displayed in every county of the United States, will be used to call attention to the enrollment campaign of the American Red Cross for 1927 membership.

For this purpose the Red Cross will launch the Tenth Annual Roll Call of members on Armistice Day, November 11, and continue the appeal until Thanksgiving, November 25, this year. Through membership the Red Cross derives support for its varied activities from the duty of extending relief to disaster, to the equally important service for disabled veterans, together with many other responsibilities which are obligations of the organization under its charter from Congress.

FORMER DIXONITE CLAIMS DISCOVERY OF STRANGE BIRDS

H. A. Brown Thinks He Has Found Passenger Pigeons

The Daily Journal of International Falls, Minn., of recent date, had the following concerning H. A. Brown, formerly a photographer in Dixon:

H. A. Brown of this city, whose report that a flock of the real passenger pigeons had been discovered aroused national interest has recently received a number of letters from different parts of the country concerning the matter.

J. F. Gould, state commissioner of game and fish, writes Mr. Brown and encloses a letter received by him from W. A. Hanson, district chief warden, with headquarters at Winton, Minn. Mr. Hanson is evidently convinced that Mr. Brown has discovered a flock of the true passenger pigeon. In his letter to Mr. Gould he says in part: "Have your letter of Oct. 15th, also a copy of the letter from H. A. Brown as to the flight of wild pigeons headed this way. I saw a flock of about twenty wild pigeons on the flats south of the cabin. They were identical the same as those of Mr. Linklater and I saw a year ago. The next time I happen to see them, I will try to get one to make sure what kind of bird they are."

Wetherell sat down by Judith and spoke very gently. "Try to think what I can do, Judith. I'm ready to do anything you say."

"Ready to do anything?" repeated Judith. "That's what Eric said. Oh, why can't people do anything to help?" She turned a piteous face toward him. He was speechless.

Champagne in France to be Costliest Ever

Paris—(AP)—Champagne of the 1926 vintage will be the most expensive in the history of France's sparkling wine.

The quality, flavor and bouquet of the wine, however, will be on a par with its price, say wine agents who are visiting the trade. They have been warning their customers to stock up as the "price is likely to double within the next year."

Already there has been a big increase. Fifteen francs per bottle was paid last year for Al Extra Dry in baskets of 25 bottles. Today the same wine is being quoted at 25 francs.

The fundamental cause of the increase is in the grapes. The best marks are being sold at Rheims for forty francs per pound. They cost 2.50 francs last year.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE
 JUDITH MARTIN is teaching her first year in Pendleton State University.

ERIC WATERS, a rebellious senior, and DR. PETER DORN, serious young astronomy professor, admire her.

DEAN TIMOTHY BROWN is outraged by her choice of student friends and seeks to bring her into submission to faculty conventions, without success.

MYRA ALDRICH, in love with Eric, is jealous of Judith.

Judith befriends Mrs. Brown, after discovering her secret love affair. When "KITTY" SHEA, town bootlegger, blackmails Mrs. Brown, Judith appeals to Eric for help.

On Christmas Eve, when Judith is alone in Myra's sorority house for the Christmas holidays, Shea tries to break in the door. Judith shoots in the air, frightening him away.

After the new term opens, Shea's body is found under his smashed car in a creek out of town. His pockets are full of letters.

Judith, coming home with Wetherell, Eric's frat brother, meets Myra, rushing out of the boarding house, crying, "Eric's been arrested."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXIV

JUDITH and Will stopped short. "Arrested?" repeated Will.

Myra leaned against the wood on post by the steps, with her face on her arm. "Yes," she moaned. Then she held the paper out to them.

Will made a dash for it and Judith followed him up the steps. The streamer headline, below the word "Extra!" read, "Popular Student Arrested in Shea Case."

There were only two paragraphs, printed in larger type than the rest of the page:

"Sheriff Robert Connell announced that Eric Waters, a prominent senior in the university, would be arrested and held as a material witness in the Shea case, following the deciphering of letters found in the dead man's pocket."

"The expert working on the mud-stained letters completed their deciphering late tonight, and as this paper goes to press, officers are on their way to the chapter house of Sigma Psi, a prominent social fraternity, with a warrant for Waters' arrest."

"Everybody's 'prominent,' at any rate," laughed Judith, with tears in her voice. She turned to find Myra staring at her.

"Yes, laugh," shrieked the girl. "Laugh. That's the kind of woman you are. Eric adores you—oh, yes, don't shake your head. I know he does. And when he gets in trouble, you stand there and make silly jokes about it. I hate you for laughing at him. I hate you for being loved by him. But I hate you worse for not appreciating him. Oh—oh—"

She pushed past them and ran down the street toward her sorority house.

Wetherell sat down by Judith and spoke very gently. "Try to think what I can do, Judith. I'm ready to do anything you say."

"Ready to do anything?" repeated Judith. "That's what Eric said. Oh, why can't people do anything to help?" She turned a piteous face toward him. He was speechless.

Judith jumped up. "We've got to get more information than this. The paper doesn't really tell anything. Will you go with me?"

Without a word, Will pushed the door open for her and they ran down the steps from the porch.

"This is what the newboys were crying when we were in the quad-rangle. And we never knew!"

"Come, Judith," said Will breath-lessly, as he ran along beside her. "You can't go on like this. You'll drop with exhaustion before you reach the newspaper office. Try to get hold of yourself a bit!"

Obediently, she stopped running and walked along, clinging to Will's arm. They reached the newspaper corner, only to find the office dark and the doors locked. The last remnant of the crowd was drifting away. Will saw a small boy coming from a rear door in the plant, and rushed to him, Judith at his heels. "What do you know about the arrest of the student?" Wetherell asked the boy.

The youngest scratched his head, while Judith's eyes implored him. "Don't know nothing. I'm just a copy boy. But I heard 'em talking about arrest 'as material witness' of whatever that is." He looked up at them in wonder at their excitement.

"Where's the city editor?" asked Will.

"Gone home to bed, and you'd better not wake him. He's in a helluva temper. Somebody poked the whole front page while they was gettin' out that extra."

Wetherell turned to Judith. "The sheriff's office is our next best bet," he said, taking her arm.

They started off again, in silence. The court house was several blocks away, an old brick building by the postoffice.

"No use," said Will. "The windows are dark." They turned toward the police station across the street. A sleepy man in the hall directed them to the night chief's office.

Will opened the door and followed Judith into the room. The night chief was a burly, bald-headed man, slouched over a solitary game of chess. He started up when he saw them. "Howdy, folks," he said. "Just about to checkmate myself. What can I do for you?"

"We have come to ask about Eric Waters," said Wetherell. "Why is he under arrest?"

"Well, now," said the chief, rubbing his hands. "Couldn't just say he was under arrest. 'Detained as material witness' is what the books say. Found a letter addressed to him among those in the dead man's pocket. Shea was goin' to mail it in Middleburg, it seems. The letter was right in the center of a bunch of ten. Slime hadn't soaked through to it."

"What about the others?" asked Judith.

The chief shook his head. "Nothin' doin'. Handwritten expert used every wash 'em he knew, and couldn't read 'em. We'll never know what was in 'em, 's my guess." He was lumbering back to his chess game.

Judith looked at Wetherell hopelessly. Wetherell turned back to the chief. "What was in the letter—anything incriminating?"

ABE MARTIN

Lot owners o' Cedar Hill cemetery have been given a couple o' days t' git their dead out o' th' way as all four corners have been condemned fer filling stations. Copyin' th' underworld styles of Paris is bad enough, but if we're goggin' t' imitate th' Follies Bergere revues, we might as well give up n' open th' ole corner saloon.

Sword is Proof These People May Cast Vote

Glaris, Switzerland—(AP)—The family sword which he brings with him to the polls is proof a citizen of the Cantons of Glaris, Oppenzell, Entervald and Lehmets is entitled to vote. Where the family sword has been lost the voter appears with a bayonet. His vote is never challenged.
On election days inhabitants of these cantons meet in the open air and discuss the event. Bearing the swords their fathers, grandfathers or earlier ancestors used in defense of their country, the gathering resembles mobilization for war much more than a political meeting.
A republic for more than a thousand years, Switzerland is a country of ancient traditions. The electors of these four cantons meeting to discuss a referendum on the question the sales of wine and beer, do so with all the warlike setting of their forefathers.

BRITISH BOB COSTLY

London—(AP)—British women are organizing long-hair clubs as a protest against the high cost of shingling. Even the very ordinary hairdresser who charges about 15 cents for cutting masculine hair will not shingle a woman's hair for less than about 60 cents.
This is denounced by women as unfair, but if they turn to women hairdressers the charges are even higher. A hair-cut, shampoo and curling costs a working woman at least $1.25.

NOT WORTH IT

The doctor had just been visiting an Irish patient, and as the man's wife was showing him out he asked: "Is your husband following out the simple diet I prescribed?"
"He is no, sorry," came the reply.
"He says he'll not be after stovin' himself to death for the sake of livin' a few years' longer,"—Tit-Bits London.

For Your Information Coal Prices Are Advancing Rapidly

The cause of the advance is (1) a severe car shortage at the mines, thereby reducing the tonnage of coal mined at a time when it is much needed, and (2) the demand for American coal in Great Britain, due to the British miners' strike. Many thousands of tons of American coal are being exported to England.

Therefore, the reduction of coal tonnage produced, and the heavy demand, have advanced coal prices sharply. Some coals are costing us three dollars per ton more than they cost a week ago.

We do not know just what future conditions will be, or how much higher prices will go. There may be a shortage of high-grade fuel in a very few weeks.

We recommend that you call us quickly and arrange for the delivery of your winter's fuel.

This statement is published in the interest of all fuel users in Dixon who have not purchased their fuel. We shall be glad to answer any inquiries.
